A Well-Played Game in Which Locals Die

The first series of games between the Eastern and Western teams of the National League anded vesterday, and the Bostons were the only Eastern team to hold their own. Chicago and Pittsburg gained on New York. The locals were beaten for the third time by Cincinnati, while Pittsburg defeated Phila-delphia, and Chicago made it three out of four from Brooklyn. St. Louis was whitewashed by Boston. Results of yesterday's games: Concinnati, 5; New York, 4. Chicago, 7; Brooklyn, 4.

CINCINNATI, 5: NEW YORK (N. L.), 4. Things broke right at every angle for the Cincinnatis yesterday at the Polo Grounds and they beat the New York Nationals in an exciting and well-played game. The Cincinnatis got out of the tight corners with more success than the New Yorks, and when they were hardest pressed for a run something turned up to give them that run. As an against in the line of annoyances it may be ited that twice with a man on first base the against in the line of annoyances it may be cited that twice with a man on first base the New York batter hit the ball on the nose, but drove it straight at a fielder when that fielder was playing away from where he ordinarily would play. Each of these intercepted liners was followed by the base runner being doubled up at first base.

One Cincinnati player was sent off the field for kicking. The rule breaker was Peitz, the catcher, who was not in the game, but who gave vent to a roar when a ball was called on Lauder in the fourth inning. Umpire O'Day at once turned to the bench and signalled Pietz to make himself scarce, which the burly backstop did with bad grace.

Much admirable work was done by the outfields of both teams, notably by Seymour, Kelley, Mertes and Bresnahan. Many a hard rap was sent beyond the confines of the infield, and the outfielders mentioned were very sprv in gauging and getting under the husky whacks. The only outfield misplay was Seymour's miss of Browne's single in the first inning, on which Browne reached second base. Browne went to third on McGann's out and scored on Mertes's hit, which was too torrid for Suthoff. Dunn hit the ball as hard as Mertes, but Corcoran was running over to second at the time to take an expected throw from the catcher. He was directly in the path of the ball and it was child's play for him to make a double play.

He was directly in the path of the ball and it was child's play for him to make a double play.

In the fifth inning Bresnahan doubled and Mertes doubled and one run resulted. The Reds had scored twice in this inning. McGinricy fumbled a rentle roller from Suthoff. Kelley hit to Dunn, who threw to second to head off Suthoff, but as Suthoff had started before the hit he landed at second ahead of Dunn's throw. Sevmour sacrificed, Gilbert making a splendid play in covering first base when McGann went for the sacrifice. With a man on third and one on second Mike Donlin arose to the occasion by lifting the ball over Mertes's head for two bases.

McGinnity gave a base on balls to Beckley in the eighth inning, and Steinfeldt's sacrifice and Magoon's sizzler to left scored Beckley. In the ninth inning Suthoff opened with a base hit to right. Kelley hit to McGinnity, who made a high throw to second to catch Suthoff. Seymour also bunted to McGinnity, and Suthoff was forced at third. Donlin was the right man in the right place again. His ground hit was going straight at Dunn, but took a bed bound just before it got there and carromed out to centre field. Kelley scored on the lucky hit and Seymour took third. Beckley field to Bresnahan, who caught the hall out of position to make a throw, and Seymour raced to the plate unhindered.

The New Yorks died hard. McGraw batted for McGinnity in the ninth, but hit to short, and his demise was the next thing on the programme. Browne bunted and kept on to second on Suthoff's throw past Beckley. There Browne tarried while Bresnahan field to Kelley, but came home when McGenn hit or its tot three bases. Planks had been placed under the right field ropes, and but for the ball like a deer to hold Mertes at third. A hit meant a tied score, but Dunn grounded to Corcoran, and a disconsolate New York march to the clubhouse was in order.

The timely leather thumping of Tinker and the musterly inefficiency of Garvin as a picher were forcible factors in the overthrow of the Brooklyns by the Chicagos at Washington Park yesterday. All Tinker did at the bat was to make a triple, a double and a single—the triple being with three men on bases and the single under like conditions. Not all of what Garvin did in the losing of the game, but enough, was to give seven bases on balls, make a wild pitch and hit a batsman. As a shining example of the value of poor control Garvin was a screaming success—to the other side.

halls, Doyle's sacrifice and Pahlen's hit gave Brooklyn a run. It was in the third inning that Garvin grew liberal to the point of recklessness with his hases on balls. He could not find the plate, and for a few minutes there was a procession of promenaders. Slagle, Chance and Jones all walked, and then Tinker diagnosed Garvin's delivery for a three-bagger. In the fourth inning forvin issued another supply of free passes. Taylor, Chance and Jones each took first on four balls, and Tinker scored two of them with a hit. The Chicagos had enough runs to win, though there was more scoring by each side. Jacklitsch gave a modicum of excitement to the game in the ninth by hitting for three bases and scoring on Strang's single.

AMERICAN LEAGUE GAMES. New Yorks Nearer to Tall End, Losing to the Clevelands. One notch nearer to the tail end went the New York Americans yesterday. They out-batted the Clevelands, but the latter made the more runs. It was New York's fourth straight defeat. The Detroits won their fourth consecutive victory by beating Bos-ton, Chicago won from Washington, and Philadelphia from St. Louis. Results: Cleveland, 5; New York, 3.

CLEVELAND, 5: NEW YORK (A.L.), 3.

CLEVELAND, May 15.—Wright was in magnificent form this afternoon and the New Yorks were at his mercy. Although he was batted harder than Tannehill he kept his hits well scattered. Cleveland won the game in the sixth inning, when, with one out. McCarthy doubled and rlick's single followed by Hickman's double and Long's fumble of Gochnaur's grounder netted three runs. The game was replete with sensational fielding on both sides in which Davis, B Bay and Clingman carried off the honors. New York scored the first run, in the fourth, on McFarland's triple and Long's double. One more was made in the fifth on a base on balls to Tannehill, a sacrifice and Keeler's single. The last run of the visitors was made in the sixth on Ganzel's double, Bay's fumble and a single by Long. The New Yorks had a bad voyage from Detroit and although they were due here early in the morning it was 1 o'clock when they arrived. This had something to do with their playing.

COLUMBIA. 2: CORNELL. 0.

In a game replete with brilliant plays and undergraduate enthusiasm, Columbia defeated Correll at baseball at the American League Park yesterday afternoon. Both pitchers were in fine form and kept the hits well down and scattered. Columbia's first run was made in the second linning. Frambach got his base on Bitstoi's error, was advanced to second on Bioomfield's close hit after O'Neil and Godwin had gone out, and scored on Tyler's drive over the shortstop's head. In the eighth, Tyler got first on balls, stole second, went to third on Gearin's high ily, and came in on Goodman's hit in deep right field.

WASWIFT WINS NEW ROCHELLE HANDICAP.

pitch of excitement that extended from free field to paddock. In three of the finishes the winner got the verdict by a nose in the very last stride. Such was the result of the only stake feature on the card, the New Rochelle Handicap, for three-year-olds and upward, at seven and a half furlongs over the Withers course. M. II. Tichenor's West-ern horse Waswift was a 9 to 5 favorite, with Andrew Miller's Wild Thyme having a strong following at 11 to 5. Lux Casta receded to fives because it was thought that that she had too much weight up, while Knight of Harlem was backed down to fif-teens because of a widespread tip. Wild Thyme made the running until straightened out for home, with Knight of Harlem attending her a part of the way, only to give up in favor of Waswift. Then in the last furlons Odom moved up with Lux Casta, and the Donovan mare, who conceded twenty-three pounds to Waswift, hooked up with the latter right down to the wire, where Wonderly Mystic Springer. pounds to Waswift, hooked up with the latter right down to the wire, where Wonderly landed the son of Wawekus winner by a nose in 1:33, which clipped a full second off the track record, made by W. C. Whitney's Slip-track record, made by W. C. Whitney's Sup-thrift last October.

Lux Casta had three lengths over Wild Thyme, who was two and a half lengths before Bon Mot. The latter and Highlander were both caught in the barrier and but for this accident they might have been closer to the winner. W. C. Whitney's Reliable, the three-yearold son of Watercress-Arnette, who recently won the first race of his cureer in impressive style, was made the favorite for the $1,219 handicap run over the Eclipse course. Fredand Julius Fleischmann's Stroller carried and Julius Fleischmann's Stroller carried the rest of the educated money. It was a gruelling finish between Reliable and Gay Boy from the Withers crossing to the wire, in which Mr. Whitney's colt looked as if he might be beaten until Burns began to ride him hard, about seventy-nive yards from the end. Then Reliable jumped ahead and had an advantage of three parts of a length when the judges' eyes caught him, with Gay Boy three lengths before Stroller, who was a nose better than Saccharometer. In vincible was only a head back. The time was 1:113.

strongly fancied at 14 to 3. The time tall 12015, W. B. Leeds's Nevermore, the favorite in the second event, at seven furlor gs, got away from the post slowly and was quickly shut in, the colt never having a chance niter that. Kickshaw, second choice, and Miss Buttermilk, a 40 to 1 shot, ran out in front and stayed together to the end. Miss Buttermilk winning by a whisker in 1.27, with Kickshaw three parts of a length before Scoffer, a 30 to 1 shot, who closed with a dazzling turn of speed in the stretch.

parts of a length before Scoffer, a 30 to 1 shot, who closed with a dazzling turn of speed in the stretch.

Foxhall P. Keene's Dovecote, a comely daughter of Kingston—Cushat, with 7 to 1 about her, upset the calculations of the talent in the fourth event, for maiden two-year-old fillies and geldings at four and a half furiones straightaway, by catching the favorite. Hopeful Miss, in the last sixteenth and beating her by a short head on the post in the fast time of 052%, which was a quarter of a second slower than Handpress's record for the course. E. R. Thomas's Vagary, second choice, was four lengths away.

There was another fall for the wise men in the fifth event, for maiden two-vear-old colts at five furlengs, when W. C. Whitney's Infexible, by Hamburg. Berriedale, whose fast work warranted almost unlimited support at 1 to 2, failed to get away with sufficient celerity to give him a chance and ran so green that he finished in the ruck. Jim Kelly, by Dr. MacBride—Alabana, a 10 to 1 shot, showed the way from the bend in the track and was victorious in a drive by a length, with H. M. B. Ziegler's Luxembourg, by Lovalist—Lythe, taking place money from E. D. Morgan's Cloff by the shortest of heads. The time was 050'. DR. RIDDLE'S ENTRY REFUSED.

ALARMING CONDITION OF THE HORSE CALLS FOR ACTION.

Stewards Take Owner Gardner and Trainer Howell to Task for a Palpable Case of "Doping"-Yardarm Will Start in American Derby-Gossip of the Track

One of the most flagrant cases of accelerating a horse's speed by the use of stimulants attracted the attention of not only those who inspected the horses in the paddock before the second race, but also two of the stewards, F. R. Hitchcock and H. K. Knapp. Dr. Riddle, who was a starter in this race came into the paddock from his stable in such a condition that there was a buzz of gossip immediately. He was sweating profusely and his eyeballs were starting out of their sockets. The horse proceeded to kick at everybody and everything within reach, and finally, just after the bugle sounded, he knocked over a fat man who did not see him coming and who rolled out of harm's way as neatly as a rubber ball. Once upon the track, Dr. Riddle walked blindly into the rails. Salling, an apprentice, had the mount and experienced difficulty in getting the horse to the post. When Dr. Riddle arrived at the barrier he seemed to be stupefied, and circled about in such a manner as to endanger the safety of his rider. Starter Fitzgerald sent word to the stewards, who had already noted the strange condition of the horse, that in his opinion Salling was in danger of receiving serious injuries. The stewards immediately sent word back to Salling to take no chances with the horse, and when the field was sent away the boy quickly pulled him up, allowing Dr. Riddle to canter along an eighth of a mile behind the others. In the middle of the stretch the horse be-

In the middle of the stretch the horse base of an to leap into the air and Salling quickly dismounted, the horse dragging him several yards before a couple of men grabbed him. It was impossible to get him to the judges' stand, so he was unsaddled and the men led him back up the stretch, the horse bleeding profusely from the mouth. The stewards hurried a man after the animal with orders to bring him back, but the men who had him in charge said that it was out of the question. Robert Pinkerton then hunted up the owner, Johnny Gardner, and the trainer, William Howell, and ordered them to allow a veterinary to examine the horse in his stable. Not long afterward the stewards announced that they had refused the entries of Gardner and also that of Dr. Riddle and had furthermore suspended the license of trainer Howell, referring the whole case to the stewards of the Jockey Club. Starter Fitzgerald said:

"The horse was in a terrible condition when he arrived at the post. His eyeballs were completely turned around, so that nothing but the whites could be seen and he was groaning in agony."

Other turfinen declared that it was one of the most flagrant instances of "doping" they had ever seen and expressed the hope that severe punishment would be meted out by the authorities. Last year the stewards got after the "dope" horses with a sharp stick, and judging from yesterday's ruling the crusade will be continued.

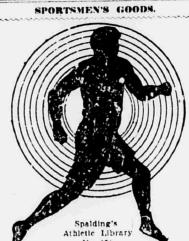

E. R. Thomas and a party of friends were well pleased with Yardarm's victory in the first race. The young turfinan, after a chat with John E. Madden, said that in all probability Yardarm would be a starter in the American Derby.

Lida Leid, who started in the fourth event, is a full sister to Cock Robin and Ringdove. H. M. W. C. Whitney's colt Intruder, who went abroad with Nasturtium, and recently came back, was shown in the paddock yesterday to an admiring throng of horsemen.

Lawrence Barry, the steeplechase jockey who was thrown by Seminole on Wednesday, was still unconscious at Fordham Hospital yesterday. The surgeons are doing all in their power to save his life, and say that the crisis will be reached to-day.

Come to Nordrach A PLACE OF REST

Did it ever strike you that Nature is the kindest and most dependable doctor? Her cure for worn-out nerves and brokendown constitutions is complete rest.

Nordrach is essentially a place of rest. Wouldn't you like to take a complete rest in the Southern Catskills with its pure air and water, its perfect sanitation, its delightful and cooling mountain breezes, where there is no malaria, no hay fever or no mosquitoes? Would not such a spot, 1.050 feet above the sea level, rest your tired nerves?

On Tuesdays Dr. A. Judson Benedict, the Medical Director, will be at the Hotel Albert (Eleventh Street and University Place) for consultation without charge.
